-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/3/05 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by the admitted prior art of record as set forth on pg 1 of the instant specification. The admitted prior art teaches a synthetic resin hollow member having an intermediate element located between thermally welded portions of the member, wherein the hollow member includes an interior passage of closed section filled with a resin mass for joining the half bodies together, the passage being formed along the outer peripheries of the respective abutting surface of the half bodies and the passage being defined by wall portions of respective half bodies after the half bodies are brought into abutment with each other. The admitted prior art also teaches at pg 2, lns 2-5 that the conventional method produces a high strength bond between the joined half bodies and good sealing performance of the butt-joined portion.
4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Leason et al (USPN 5049274). Leason et al teach the claimed synthetic resin hollow member having an intermediate element located between fused portions of the member. See figs 4-6.
5. Applicant's arguments filed 11/03/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that neither the admitted prior art nor Leason et al teach joined bodies joined with high bond strength and good sealing characteristics. This argument is misplaced because it is clear from the above rejection that the admitted prior art teaches the claimed limitations. The argument is also misplaced because the claimed limitations use relative words such as high and good, neither of which is defined by the instant specification. Since the relative terms are not defined by the instant specification, they are afforded broad definitions. Thus, both the joined half bodies of the admitted prior art and Leason et al meet the claimed limitations.
